FROM YOUR PRESIDENT Maryhelen ShumanGroh

The 2003 Dive Season is upon us despite lack of cooperation from the weather. This is the time I like to remind everyone to remember their DIVE COURTESY. Many attributes go into making a courteous diver. There are simple things like obeying the local parking ordinances. There are things that should just be taken for granted but often aren't – like using some discretion when changing into and out of dive suits in public areas or using public toilets to answer the call of nature instead of somebody's rose bushes. There are the big laws: having a current lobster license with you and obeying the recreational lobster laws including take numbers, sizing (both for too small and too large lobsters), leaving eggers and never, never touching a lobster trap.

I'd like to hear from members about what they think makes for courteous divers. If you have them, please relay any stories you have detailing examples of rude or discourteous divers you've encountered.

We're all out there for fun and enjoyment and there are more and more divers every year trying to use the limited amount of parking and resources. Although SAFETY is paramount to the enjoyment of diving, please remember to be nice to each other out there and just observe some simple courtesy when using the shared resources along our oceans, lakes and rivers. HAVE FUN DIVING!

FROM YOUR VICE PRESIDENT Peter McCarthy

Diving Cape Ann

I still remember how excited I was preparing for my open water checkout dives in the 1980's, after completing my entry-level scuba training with Jerry Comeau, an inspiring instructor and one of diving's true pioneers. The site of my first open water dives? Back Beach in Rockport, Massachusetts. Today, after completing many dives across the United States and internationally, I continue to return to Back Beach and other sites on Cape Ann to dive. Why? Because Cape Ann is a wonderful place to dive! Think there's nothing to see in this area? Pickup a copy of any of the great books available on New England marine life, such as Marine Life of the North Atlantic by Andrew Martinez, and you'll find hundreds of pages of interesting creatures that may be seen on your Cape Ann dives. Our annual picnic is being held right in the heart of Cape Ann this year, and it will provide an excellent opportunity for you to enjoy the fabulous diving we have in this area!

Club Clothing at Next General Meeting

We will have polo shirts and t-shirts with the Club logo available for sale at upcoming meetings. You can also order any other item that our supplier Wearguard sells, with the Club logo, by calling our new representative, Alison Hines. Allison can be reached at 800-677-6060, x 5624 or via e-mail at allison\_hines@wearguard.com. You should tell her you're a member of the dive club (account #16444402), and make arrangements to pay for your merchandise and have it shipped directly to you (please ensure your personal merchandise is not shipped to the Aquarium or billed to the Club). Allison will be attending our next general meeting and will have samples of various products available on display.

FROM YOUR MEMBERSHIP DIRECTOR Trish Katzman

Welcome to all new members!

The dive season is now here. If you are a wetsuit diver and get cold pretty easy, try diving in shallow depths where the water is warmer. You can still get an amazing dive. I went out to Old Garden Beach in Rockport, MA on June 2 and 7. We dove around the left side where there are lots of rocks and life. I saw two ocean pouts, which was the first time I saw those fish while not at the Aquarium. It was a comfortable, interesting, and warm dive.

On June 21, our club went to Nubble Light in York, Maine. This was also a shallow dive, 20 feet maximum depth, on the left side of where most divers enter. It was a fantastic dive. The visibility was probably 15 feet so it was easy to keep an eye on your buddy while investigating areas without being right next to him. We saved a sculpin that was trapped in an abandoned lobster trap. We saw a lumpfish (really cute), lots of juvenile bass (I think), flounder, rock gunnel, and the usual stuff like starfish, lobster, crab, etc. I also saw a nice size fish with some nice medium blue color on the edges, I think it's a blackfish (tautog) but I'm not sure. I've haven't seen such a colorful fish out here before.

Check out our website www.neadc.org for the schedule of shore dives and boat dives. We planned out the whole season with shore dives for every Saturday and Sunday and many boat dives during the season. If you don't see a shore dive planned for a weekend that you want contact our Shore Dive Coordinator Rick Rosa at shoredive@neadc.org. Or if you're interested in a boat dive, contact our Boat Dive Coordinator Bill Low at boatdive@neadc.org.

Hope to see you out there soon.

FROM YOUR SECRETARY Anna Krowczynska

Summer finally arrived in New England. This big bright yellow object in the sky – this is a sun ( just in case you've forgotten how sun look like ). Water temperature in Atlantic is steadily climbing up ( now is 50 plus in some spots ) and lobsters and other creatures are back. It's time to dust off tanks and start answering an urge to submerge. Check our dive calendar in the Newsletter for great shore dives, or if you prefer boat dive, check the charters which give a special discount for NEADC members ( partial list was published in June special edition of the Newsletter ).

I will be leading a morning shore dive during the annual Picnic on Saturday July 19. We will meet at Burger King in Beverly on 128 at 8 am and pick up the best dive site for this day on Cape Ann.

Even, if you are not planning on getting wet on that day, bring your family and join us at the Picnic at Stage Fort Park. There will be a lot of activities going on suitable for every family member. Since we are joining the GAFC event being held the same day expect information booths ( Sanctuary, other dive clubs and vendors ) and other activities organized by Great American Fish Count. Mark your calendar and don't miss this event.

I am off for the club annual Wreck Diving trip to Morehaed City, NC. Next time I will give trip report.

Happy and safe diving.

FROM YOUR BOAT DIVING COORDINATOR Bill Low

As someone who has done his fair share of shore diving I just want to say that I am about to tell you about a drawback of boat diving. You will be spoiled once you experience the pleasure and ease of diving from a boat! From the usually relaxing ride out to the dive site giving you the chance to take in the wonder of the Atlantic ocean that can bring people so much pleasure on and below the surface to the view of the beautiful houses on the edge of the water that can only be fully appreciated with the breath taking view that comes from being on a boat as it motors out to a dive site that can hold so many new diving experiences.

Once you get your gear on, all that is keeping you from the wonder below is a giant stride or a back roll off the boat; no walking along slippery rocks or lugging your equipment down to the shore while performing a balancing act and not having to worry about carrying a dive flag. No long surface swim!

If there are any problems, a well trained dive boat crewmember will be able to assist you with you equipment; whether some piece of equipment gets tangled or an unexpected problem arises. When your dive is over you just have to climb a ladder to the boat or hand your equipment to a crewmember and lift yourself to the boats platform. Then it is time to relax and talk to your fellow divers about their dives and the anticipation of the dives to come. You have been forewarned.

Please visit www.easy-diver.com, www.bostondiving.com and www.captainrobs.com for northern New England diving and www.newportdivingcenter.com down south.

Now comes the part where I tell you that the seal dives are filling up fast, so please do not be left out on a great diving experience.

Of course shore diving is great because it is free and a great way to spend a weekend or an evening that leads to a great night dive that will be unforgettable.

Hi To All My New Dive Buddies:

My name is Matt Bell and I'm new to the NEADC.

I've been planning a dive trip for February 14-21, 2004 since I saw the exhibition at the Sea Rovers show.

The Nekton Rorqual is sailing from Puerto Rico, so no hassles with customs or immigration.

This trip is to Mona Island and the cost is approximately $1500.00 Plus Airfare to San Juan, P.R.

For more info contact MATT BELL at 617/799-2028 or E-Mail SCUBACRUISER@HOTMAIL.COM

OR WWW.Nektoncruises.com

Thanks

MATT

NAUI RESCUE DIVER COURSE

Rescue training is an excellent way to increase your diving skills and confidence, regardless of your current experience level. This intensive 2½-day course will introduce you to basic skills for preventing SCUBA accidents, assisting other divers and managing in-water emergencies. Participants must have entry-level SCUBA certification and should be in good overall health. Current first aid and CPR certification are also required prior to issuance of certification for this course.

Dates: Thursday evening, July 17, 2003
Saturday, July 26, 2003
Sunday, July 27, 2003

Cost: $175.00

CoastSweep 2003

Canoe Beach/Forty-Steps Underwater & Beach Cleanup/Northeastern University Marine Lab Open House

Date: September 20, 2003

Time: 10am-4pm

Where: Canoe Beach, Nahant, MA

Contact: Alicia Lenci 617 389-3458, environmental@neadc.org

A great family event. Non divers and divers are welcome to cleanup the beach and the underwater area of Canoe Beach & Forty-Steps. Also Northeastern University's Marine Lab will be having their open house. Check out what is going on at the Marine Lab. Prizes for those that participate! For the diver...this area usually has restricted parking but not for this event. Come check out an awesome dive site so close to Boston and help make a difference!

What is Coast Sweep?

Every year the cleanups are led by a dedicated group of local coordinators who in 2002 organized 4,000 volunteers who collected almost 40,000 pounds of trash and marine debris from 125 locations. That's over 180 miles of Massachusetts' coastline! COASTSWEEP is part of an international campaign organized by the The Ocean Conservancy in Washington, DC. Participants all over the world collect marine debris and record the types of trash they collect. This information is then used to help reduce future marine debris problems.

Directions:

From the South: Via Tobin Bridge.

Take I-93 N Route 1N . Take Route 16 exit (Revere Beach Lynn) from route 1. Follow Route 16 to Bell Circle (First Rotary with lights). At Bell circle take Route 1a (Lynn, fork right at Nahant/Swampscott sign to Nahant rotary. Take first right off of rotary. go over causeway and stay on Nahant Road to its end. Marine Lab is on the left at East Point at the end of Nahant Road. Park inside NEU property.

From the North Shore:

From Routes 128& 95 South: Take exit for Route 1 South. Take exit for Lynn/Route 129 East. Follow 129A to its eastern end at the ocean. Take a right and follow the water to Nahant rotary. Take second left off of rotary, go over causeway and stay on Nahant Road to its end. Marine Lab is on the left at East Point at the end of Nahant Road. Park inside NEU property.

New England Aquarium Dive Club 2003 Shore Diving and Event Calendar

If you plan to participate in a shore dive you should contact the designated leader prior to the dive date to let him or her know that you will be attending. Decisions to cancel or modify dive plans (due to weather or other factors) are left to the discretion of the individual leaders who organize the dives, and confirming your attendance beforehand will help ensure that you are notified of any last minute changes. Likewise, if you confirm attendance but then cannot attend a dive for any reason, please notify the dive leader as soon as possible, so that the group does not wait for you at the meeting site on the day of the dive.
